

Did this person write more plays than Oscar Wilde?

<Thought> The image shows a book with a picture of William Shakespeare. To answer the question, we need to compare the number of plays written by this person (William Shakespeare) with Oscar Wilde. </Thought>

<Search> number of plays written by these two playwrights </Search>

Retrieval: A playwright or dramatist is a person who writes plays, which are a form of drama that primarily consists of dialogue between characters...\n Lewis, Matthew Gregory (1775 - 1818)...\n Stan Lee - Death, Life & Cameos...\n Shakespeare authorship question - Wikipedia\n The Shakespeare authorship question is the argument that someone other than William Shakespeare of Stratford-upon-Avon wrote the works attributed to him.

<Thought>The retrieved information does not directly compare the number of plays written by William Shakespeare and Oscar Wilde. However, we can use the information about William Shakespeare to answer the question. </Thought>

<Search> number of plays written by William Shakespeare. </Search>

Retrieval omitted

<Thought> The retrieved information confirms that William Shakespeare wrote 37 plays during his lifetime. Now, we need to compare this number with the number of plays written by Oscar Wilde. </Thought>

<Search>number of plays written by Oscar Wilde </Search>

Retrieval omitted

<Thought>The retrieved information confirms that Oscar Wilde wrote 14 plays. Now, we can compare the number of plays written by William Shakespeare (37) and Oscar Wilde (14).</Thought>

<Final Answer> Yes, William Shakespeare wrote more plays than Oscar Wilde. William Shakespeare wrote 37 plays, while Oscar Wilde wrote 14 plays. </Final Answer>